

Human Resources Cocktail Event at Mossbacks

Well known as THE place for summer vacation in Ohio, Put-in-Bay attracts visitors all season long. To better aid the demands of the local market, the Center for Cultural Interchange (CCI-Greenheart), hosted a Wake-Up Cocktail Party at Put-in-Bay's Mossbacks on Thursday evening, October 13, 2009.

Officially designated by the U.S. Department of State, CCI-Greenheart's Put-in-Bay event was stocked with complimentary drinks and lively discussion regarding the J-1 Work & Travel program. The J-1 program allows foreign students to come to the U.S. and work. The event allowed managers a glimpse into the program, new Web 2.0 applications and job board and sign-up for approval of the free service.

Established in 1985, the Center for Cultural Interchange (CCI-Greenheart) is the only non-profit green J-1 visa sponsor in the US. CCI-Greenheart is an international education exchange organization dedicated to the promotion of academic development, cultural understanding, environmental consciousness and world peace.

Based in Chicago, Illinois, CCI-Greenheart organizes high school exchange, short-term group home stay, internship, volunteer, work and travel, and language study programs in the United States and in over 30 countries around the world. Through CCI's Greenheart environmental and social welfare projects, the organization offers opportunities to American and international participants to contribute to conservation efforts through service, education and conscious living.

Non-profit J-1 visa sponsor, the Center for Cultural Interchange, hosted a Cocktail event for managers in Restaurant, Hotel, Retail, Golf & Theme Park industries at Mossbacks in October. Left to right are Adra Klopfer and Mary Cathlin Sullivan from CCI with Marv Booker and Pat Thwaite from the Boardwalk and Mike Buttrey from Mossbacks.

For more information about the CCI organization and hiring foreign students for your business, please contact Mary C. Sullivan at 312-264-1612.